

I hope the FCC will establish rules that allow for diversity, yea even more diversity to occur over our airlines. To do otherwise would be to weaken freedom of speech in this country. Only those with money enough to buy time on the airways would control the message and the more stations they are able to buy, the more they control the message. Currently, public radio is the only place I know where diverse voices can be heard and it sounds "fresh" every time I hear it. In a country with our freedoms a diverse message should not seem fresh, it should be the rule. Please don't vote to limit the airwaves of the people to the hands of a few. Thank you.
